STATE ELECTION—OFFICIAL.

By the substitution of the figure eight (8), instead of a five (5), in the returns of M'Kean county, thus making Sharswood's vote in that place 845 instead of the actual number, 545, and an error in Sharswood's vote in Wyoming county, making it 1,454 instead of 1,474, the majority of Sharswood was increased 280 votes over what it really should be. These mistakes were not discovered until our edition had been worked off. We therefore re-publish the table in a corrected form—making the real majority of George Sharswood 922. These figures agree with the official votes deposited in the Secretary's office, from which Mr. Sharswood will receive his certificate of election:

THE ALLEGED ELECTION FRAUDS IN PHILADELPHIA.

The petitions presented in the Court of Common Pleas of Philadelphia, by three of the Republican candidates for county offices, with a view of contesting the election, and which were filed and an order issued to defendants to answer within ten days, set forth:

"That at the late election held in certain election divisions of certain wards of the said city, the election officers of said divisions fraudulently conducted and carried on said election with a wilful disregard of all the requirements of the law regulating elections, by means of which only the true votes and will of the people could be ascertained in said divisions. And your petitioners specify that the said election was conducted in the following manner, to wit: The election officers in said divisions falsely and fraudulently permitted and suffered a large number of persons, not qualified voters of said divisions, to vote at said election, to the number of one thousand nine hundred and forty-nine and upwards, whose votes were taken and counted in the general return for said offices, whose names were not on the list furnished by the City Commissioners to the election officers, without requiring or receiving proof of the qualifications of said voters, and without requiring or receiving proof by a qualified elector of a residence in said divisions of said voters, and without adding the names of said voters with the names of the persons making proof to the list furnished by the City Commissioners.

"They falsely and fraudulently permitted a large number of persons, to the number of four hundred and eleven and upwards, not qualified to vote in said divisions, whose votes were taken and counted in the general return for the said office of City Commissioner, whose names are to your petitioners unknown, who voted in the names of those who were upon the list furnished by the City Commissioners to the election officers of said divisions.

"They falsely and fraudulently neglected and refused to mark the letter "V" opposite the names of all the voters on the list furnished by the City Commissioners aforesaid, who voted in said divisions, thereby neglecting to make the record required by law of the names and residences of those who voted.

"They fraudulently refused to receive proofs or inquire into the qualifications of voters whose right to vote was legally challenged.

"They falsely and fraudulently received the votes of non-residents of said election divisions not qualified voters therein, at said election.

"That all said acts were done and committed with the intent and purpose of holding an undue election, and with the desire to prevent an honest expression of the popular will at said election; and a true ascertainment of the re-votes of the qualified voters residing in said divisions who voted at said election, and that in pursuance of said conduct on the part of the election officers, and the wicked and evil-disposed persons who aided and abetted them in their nefarious designs, the true will of the voters in said divisions was not ascertained, but was defeated, and your petitioners thereby charge that the said election so held in said divisions was false, fraudulent, undue, and void, and the return thereof false, and should be stricken from the general return, and be wholly disregarded."

The Bulletin remarks:

"The petitions filed before Judge Brewster contain the specifications of a portion of these frauds, amounting to 2,350 votes, cast in the Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Eighth, Seventeenth and Twenty-fifth wards, and we understand the Republican Committee is still at work, unearthing this rascally scheme to carry, not only the comparatively unimportant offices of Philadelphia, but also the more important office of Judge of the Supreme Court. Every fraudulent vote cast for Leech, Megary and Balher was also cast for Sharswood, whose official majority in the State is only 922, and will therefore be overturned, if less than half of the votes contested in Philadelphia alone are thrown out. It is true that Judge Sharswood's case cannot be tried by the same Court, but must be contested in the Legislature; but the trial of the cases of Leech, Ballier and Megary will doubtless furnish an amount of testimony regarding the whole Democratic management of the election that will greatly facilitate the investigations of the Legislature in the case of Judge Sharswood. District-Attorney Mann has taken hold of these election frauds with an earnest determination to expose and punish them, and those who know the persistent vigor and fearless courage Mr. Mann is able to bring to bear in his pursuit and punishment of fraud and crime, feel confident that he will prosecute his investigations into this nefarious plot to deprive the people of their rights, with promptness, energy, sagacity and complete success."

THIEVES are becoming sharp, and every day we read accounts of some new and ingenious tricks upon travelers, and also upon sober dwellers at home. Detectives must have been progressing, too, however, or we would not hear of so many of the sharp doings of the thieves. The publication of the full details of these artful dodgers may be a very good thing, inasmuch as it keeps the general public always warned, if not always on its guard; but thieves read, too, and probably the western ones get many of their ideas, through the papers, from their eastern brethren, and vice versa.

WHISKY drinkers should go to Philadelphia, as the flood of illicit liquor there must be immense. The N. Y. Tribune says "the gutters are brimming over with the intoxicating fluid, and the Susquehanna is muddy with confiscated mash." Now, either the Tribune is rusty in Pennsylvania geography, or the flow of whisky must be immense to carry the "mash" all the way to the Susquehanna. We fear there is some mistake in the atlas used by the Tribune. Such errors have latterly combined to destroy the reputation, for accuracy, of that journal.

THE Gulf State papers are still filled with their melancholy burden of death. The principal part of their local intelligence relates to the latest attacks, the deaths of well known citizens, or congratulations of the fortunate few who are out again. But still the weather is delightful, the peculiar "air of pestilence" has departed, and the number of deaths is decreasing daily. We hope soon to be able to record the complete evacuation by the dread disease of all our ports and inland towns.

DR. AUGUSTUS K. GARDNER a member of the New York Academy of Medicine, was suspended from communion with that body, because he had consulted with a Homeopathic physician. Dr. Gardner was very obstinate, and was absurd enough to aver that he thought he had a right to consult with any one he pleased, and contumacious enough to refuse to repent of his sins. He has only practiced in that city during the past twenty years.

IT is said that George W. Curtis, one of the most delightful of our American authors, is about writing another novel.

The October Elections.

EDITORS GAZETTE:—It is curious to note the different reasons given for the reduced Republican vote in the elections which have just been held, and a Philadelphia telegram appears to have touched the key-note from which the conservative wing of the party rings its thousand and one changes:—"The nigger business did it." Perhaps it did; but it did not do it in the sense in which these weak-kneed gentlemen apprehend.

Had the Republican party come out boldly at the close of the war, and instead of temporizing with Andrew Johnson, put its foot down firmly on the granite of Equal Rights, it would not have witnessed the humiliating defeat of last Tuesday. It is always safe to do right; it is always safe in a contest of this kind to throw expediency to the dogs, and depend for success in a cause because the cause is just. And we trust that the Republican party will take no steps backward. Human Rights and Human Freedom want a party to bear for them their legitimate fruits. A higher than human wisdom has said, "Men do not gather grapes of thorns, nor figs of thistles. By their fruits ye shall know them." So if the Republican party from which the oppressed of the land thought to gather figs and grapes, bears nothing but thorns and thistles, it will be discarded as worthless and useless, and it will go down "like stars that fall to rise no more." And from its ashes there will arise another party—the party of those who love justice for her own sake—of those who ask is it right, not is it expedient, and who, feeling this, will march on to victory.

But we do not fear for the Republican party. We know it will be true to itself, and being true to itself will be up to public sentiment, or rather lead public sentiment. And in taking this position it cannot fail to advocate Impartial Suffrage. And what does that mean? Why simply that, make the standard or basis of suffrage what you will, every man shall stand in the same position. And be convinced, Messrs. Editors, that the party which does not plant its foot on this rock will not be the party of the people, and will signally fail. A way down in the great American heart there is an innate sense of justice, which is unswayed by prejudice or caste, and which will assert itself with mighty power at a time when the mere politician lenests suspects, and before it shall cower all that is mean or narrow or sectional.

Let us, then, as Republicans, away with any reasons which attribute our want of success on Tuesday to the "nigger business," in that we were in advance of public sentiment; for it is not so. We were not up to this sentiment at the close of the war; we are far below it now. It is a truism that "truth is mighty and must prevail," however much men deny it by wrapping around themselves the cloak of a worldly policy. Sumner said in his great speech, for delivering which Bully Brooks sought to take his life, "that against them the defenders of the slave power was nature in all her subtle forms; against them was an immortal principle; against them was God; let them subdue these." And with such Almighty forces as these, Messrs. Editors, shall we fail to conquer a party which places its iron heel upon the neck of the downtrodden, until they cry for mercy, and plead for help? We trow not.

Let us not, then, as a party, hang upon the skirts of a policy just because it is popular, but let us rather find out what is right, and then go on, as we must, to certain victory. TRUTH.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 15, 1867.

—The New York Times of Friday says: A series of interesting experiments are at present taking place at the United States Barge offices, foot of White-hall street, involving the exhibition of an electric light, produced by magnetic-electric agency and intended for use on shipboard, in lieu of the old-fashioned signal lanterns, and in light houses. Fifty-six horse shoe magnets arranged around a cylinder, which is set in rapid motion by steam power, and revolves within a hair's breadth of wire coils generate the electricity, which is conducted by ordinary telegraph wires and in two currents to the glass inclosure inside of which the currents meet after passing through two coke crayons. A new system of lenses is used to concentrate the rays. The principal advantage claimed for the light—a pressing necessity of finding a substitute for the dimly burning signal lanterns on ship board, being of course set aside—is that no material is consumed in its generation; the machine can never become unfitted for use, and, on a steamer, can be worked without any extra outlay for fuel, the revolving cylinder being connected with the machinery by a belt. Two of these electric lights are in use in the two light houses at Havre, France, the contrivance being of French invention and manufacture. The experiments, are being made under the supervision of Mons. Eugene Von Nordhausen.

—In one of the new pieces produced in Paris to please the Exhibition visitors, the hero is an American. He arrives in the gay capital covered with precious stones and rich jewelry of all kinds, and has a bag full of gold. In his travels he has met with many beauties, but the only lady with whose charms he is greatly smitten, and whose love he desires, is a Parisienne. We then see him raveling in the full enjoyment of his wishes: he possesses more than all the delights of Brahma and the paradise of Mohammed—he has the love of a charming young Frenchwoman. In the last scene he has neither gold, nor precious stones, nor Indian shawls; he is miserably clad, and has been despoiled of everything. Africa, says he, has its locusts, the Nile its crocodiles, America its vampires, and Asia its serpents, but Paris has its Parisiennes.

The Presbyterian Synod of Baltimore (old school) is now in session at Georgetown. A report was made from the Special Committee on the subject of the re-union of the Old and New School Churches, in which the following paragraph occurs: "The experience of our own church before and since its division has proved conclusively that the unity of the spirit in the bonds of peace was better secured by their separation than their organic union, and we accept the teachings of this experience as decisive thus far, that unless now agreed upon, the points which then decided them must now decide that the time has not yet come for an organic re-union, and we feel constrained to say that in the basis proposed by the Joint Committee such agreement is not made sufficiently apparent."

The Synod laid on the table, by a vote of forty-five to twenty, a resolution declaring that the Synod of Baltimore express its earnest desire that the two branches of the Presbyterian Church may soon be united in cordial and harmonious union.

On that morning he went down from his residence to superintend the threshing of some grain. He made no complaint that he was sick, but while standing with his face toward a large box and his hand on it fell back and was dead. Mr. Berry was a man much respected—was County Superintendent of Common Schools for a number of years, and a regular communicant in the United Presbyterian church. He was about sixty years of age."

—The Lawrence Journal says: Rev. Ira Eddy, who has been preaching the gospel for fifty-two years, as a Methodist itinerant preacher, on Sabbath last filled the pulpit of Rev. J. C. Scofield, in New Castle. Fifty years ago he preached in New Castle, or rather where it is now located; but his audience of that time has passed away. His health has been very poor for within a few weeks past, when he took a severe cold, and is now laboring with an attack of spasmodic asthma.

—Mr. I. H. Brown, of Damascus, a few weeks since cut down a bee tree, and in it found one hundred and fifty-two pounds of most excellent honey. A yield as large as that is not often found.

GREAT INDIAN COUNCIL.

Good Prospect for a Treaty and the Establishment of a Lasting Peace—Seven to Ten Thousand Savages Congregated at Medicine Lodge Creek.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 20.—A dispatch to the Republican, dated Medicine Lodge Creek, Oct. 17th, says the Indian business progresses finely and there is a good prospect that a treaty will be made and a lasting peace established. A council will commence on Saturday, the 19th inst., lasting four or five days. Runners have been sent out to notify outlying bands. Yesterday the Dog Indians, with their chiefs, "Tall Bear," "White Horse," "Little Bear," and "Grey Head" came in and had an interview. They professed a desire for peace and promised to come to the Council. The Kiowas, Comanches, or Horse Shoe Indians, under "Silver Broach," and the Nacones, or Wanderers, under chief "Horseback," reached here on Wednesday. They came from Texas, three hundred miles south of the Arkansas. Superintendent Murphy yesterday issued a week's provisions to five thousand Indians. Every Southern Cheyenne lodge will be at this point to-morrow, making from seven to ten thousand Indians present. All the war parties are in, except a fragment consisting of about twelve men, who left their party on the Smoky Hill, as they said to visit the Northern Cheyennes.

Terrible Accident at a Tunnel—Thirteen Men Killed.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., Oct. 20.—A terrible accident occurred at Hoozie Tunnel on Saturday, by which thirteen men were either killed outright or suffocated to death. The gasaline works, at the mouth of the shaft, exploded, and burning the shaft, burying the whole gang working at the bottom. The bodies will not be extricated for some days.

Railroad Matters.

Under the excellent management of President W. O. Hughart, of the Connellsville Railroad Company, its affairs have assumed quite a prosperous look. For nine months of this year the Company earned $401,680. Its net earnings were $235,416, showing an increase over the same period of 1866 of $39,536.

The Allegheny Valley Railroad will be finished and the cars running to Oil City by the 13th of November. A grand opening celebration will take place in honor of the achievement. Col. Phillips, the President of the road, merits the gratitude of our citizens for the energy and enterprise he has shown in pushing forward this important work. We hope he will persevere until he gives us a connection with New York.

West Virginia Oil Items.

Oil at Burning Springs is rapidly accumulating.

Oil Rock in Wirt county now promises well to yield oil in abundance.

Teaming has to be again resorted to in getting oil to market. The first rain will block up the roads with mud, whether it raises the Kanawha river or not.

The pipe of the West Virginia Transportation Company, from Oil Rock to the Kanawha river, will soon be in operation again.

ITALY.

RATAZZI PLEDGED TO ENTER ROME.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The Times in a leading article asserts that the Italian Prime Minister Ratazzi is pledged to enter Rome as soon as the French fleet sails.

The place held by the insurgents is not the seaport Ostin, but the town of Orte, on the Tiber, in the province of Viterbo.

A Spanish frigate has sailed from Cadiz for Civitia Vecchia.

SITUATION MORE SERIOUS—RAILROAD COMMUNICATION BETWEEN ROME AND FLORENCE SEVERED.

FLORENCE, October 19.—The latest dispatches from the Roman territory describe the situation as more serious. The Garibaldians are daily crossing the frontier and marching to points where the insurgents rendezvous. Many inhabitants and others in the Roman territory are going over to the insurgents.

The insurgents have captured the town of Orte, fifteen miles east of Viterbo, on the right bank of the Tiber, which gives them possession of the railroad at that place, and they have severed communication between Rome and Florence.

Reports from Papal sources at Rome give accounts of the defeat of the insurgents by the Papal troops in the field.

The Italian press and people almost unanimously clamor for the occupation of Rome by the Italian Government.

Victor Emanuel's officers continue to arrest Garibaldians as they attempt to cross the frontier.

Admiral Rabaili, of the Italian Navy, has mustered the royal squadron of eight iron clads, which he will take to Roman waters.

COMPLAINTS OF VICTOR EMANUEL—FEARS OF A COLLISION BETWEEN FRENCH AND ITALIAN TROOPS.

PARIS, October 18.—Napoleon and his Ministers complain that Victor Emanuel's efforts to enforce the terms of the September Convention, with respect to invading the Papal territory, are not effective. Fears are entertained that a collision may take place between the French and Italian forces which are being dispatched towards Rome.

REPORTED REVOLUTION IN ROME—RUMORED ARRANGEMENT BETWEEN FRANCE AND ITALY.

LONDON, October 18—Evening.—It is reported a revolution took place in Rome last night, and great excitement prevails in Florence. Rumors are also afloat that France and Italy intend to arrange for joint occupation of Rome.

PETITION TO HIS HOLINESS TO ALLOW VICTOR EMANUEL'S TROOPS TO OCCUPY ROME.

FLORENCE, October 20.—A deputation, consisting of members of the Roman Municipal Council and headed by a Senator of Rome, has had an audience with Pope Pius IX, a which at petition signed by twelve thousand citizens of Rome was presented, praying his Holiness to give his consent to the occupation of Rome by the troops of King Victor Emanuel.

ENGLAND.

GOLD FROM AUSTRALIA.

LONDON, October 19.—The steamship from Melbourne, arrived to-day, brought 500,000 pounds of sterling in gold.

FENIAN ALARM UNABATED—ATTEMPTS TO BURN A PRISON.

The Fenian alarm does not abate. Last evening repeated efforts were made by Fenians to burn the police station at Chester, and thus release some of their comrades who were there confined. The fire in every instance was extinguished before damage was done. The Government is on the alert and precautions are every where taken to guard against surprise.

REDUCED CABLE RATES.

We understand there are arrangements perfected whereby the rates by cable will be reduced fully fifty per cent. The reduction will go into effect on the 15th of November.

FRANCE.

PEACE OR WAR WITH ITALY.

PARIS, October 20.—All the official journals of Saturday concur in declaring that within twenty-four hours Italy must announce her determination either to support the revolutionary movement or faithfully execute the provisions of the September Convention, and France must decide for peace or war accordingly.

PHILADELPHIA.

Prize Fight Stopped—Shocking Attempt at Infanticide—Child Thrown from a Fifth Story Window and Uninjured.

PHILADELPHIA, October 20.—A prize fight took place to-day, north of this city, between John Badger and Robert Cunningham. After a few rounds had been fought the police made a dash and arrested seventeen spectators, and subsequently arrested one of the principals.

This morning a servant girl in a hotel near the centre of the city gave birth to an illegitimate child and threw it from a fifth story window. The cries of the child attracted the attention of the police, and it was found to be entirely uninjured! The mother will be held on a charge of attempted infanticide.

Kentucky Election Investigation.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 20.—The Congressional Committee, headed by Schofield, of Pennsylvania, to inquire into the alleged disloyalty of the members elected from Kentucky, arrived from Lexington last night, and will to-morrow continue taking testimony. They go hence to Covington, where they will no doubt close their labors.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Twenty Thousand Dollars' Worth of Jewelry, Watches and Diamonds Stolen.

Samuel Long, Chief of the Allegheny City Police, on Saturday received information from Baltimore of a skillful robbery supposed to have been committed on a train on the Pennsylvania Railroad, between this city and Altoona, on Saturday, the 12th instant. The particulars are given as follows: On Monday last a man, representing himself as from the Southwest, called at the office of the detectives in Baltimore

MONDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1867.

A LESSON FROM HISTORY.

At the commencement of the year 1852 the Whig party was full of vitality and gave promise of long life and many beneficent triumphs. In July it received its death-wound, and, lingering some months, expired at the ballot-boxes the following autumn. It was wounded in the house of its friends, and from the first recovery was hopeless, except in the minds of the devotees of the false god, Expediency. We were in the Whig National Convention that year, and saw the chosen but mistaken or base representatives of that party slaughter it. The sight made us sick at heart. There were cold impassive men there, who reasoned only from the standpoint of their ambitions, and thought the way to success ran only through the door of cruel and mischievous concession. There were timid men there who crawled because Southern men blustered. Slimy men were there, who crowed about hawking monstrous platforms, which they were anxious to exchange for their individual preferment. Men were there who had won fame, genuine eminence, troops of followers and friends, to such a degree that their presence attracted all eyes, as a spontaneous homage, who sought the Vice Presidency by the sacrifice of manhood, and they went away shorn, powerless and despised, and have remained so ever since.

By the platform, which was framed to suit the conservatives, and which was more detestibly pro-slavery than the democratic one of the same year, all the earnest and disinterested men of the Whig party were paralyzed or alienated. All that was left them was a contest for places or contracts, and for that they had no stomach. They could not consent to gain either by surrendering the principles they cherished, and believed to be essential to the prosperity of the country and the perpetuation of free institutions therein.

After the Convention adjourned, we returned to our Pennsylvania home, meditated a few days over the shame and humiliation of the great party to which we were attached, then packed our portmanteau and gratified a long-cherished desire to know somewhat personally of New England by spending the time up to the Saturday before the election in exploring it. Multitudes more drew off.

When the election was over, no sane man doubted but the Whig party was dead, and destined to experience no resurrection. Its true friends sorrowfully buried it from the sight of the living. Most of the men who aided potentially in destroying it, betook themselves, with indecent taste, to the democratic ranks.

There are men who are now plotting a similiar catastrophe to befall the Republican organization. Greedy of personal influence and power—loathing a minority as the greatest possible calamity—indifferent to all fundamental principles of right and justice—they seek to win by lowering the Republican banner, even to trailing it into the dust. They judge others by themselves; and so think the unworthy abatements they propose will offend and repel none, but attract and retain tens of thousands. At best they are self-deceived. The true function of the Republican party is the establishment of Equal Rights before the Laws for all classes of American citizens. When it shall discard and contemn that duty, its days will be numbered, and speedily draw to an ignominious close. If any form of caste is to be re-established and maintained, the infamy of the deed will not attach to the Republican but to the Democratic party, for the former will have expired before the guilty consummation. No reason exists why anybody should be deceived on this head, or should deceive themseves, touching this matter. The great bulk of the Republicans are controlled by profound convictions. So long as the banner of the party shall symbolize those convictions they will follow with hearty fealty, but not a day longer.

DEATH OF THOS. S. CLARKE, ESQ.

After an illness of several weeks this well-known and much respected citizen, died at his home, at Oakland, near this city, on Saturday afternoon, in the 67th year of his age.

Mr. CLARKE was born at Canonsburgh, June 18, 1801. His youth was spent in Beaver county and at Brownsville. In 1818 he went to Wheeling, where he engaged in business. From 1825 to the time of his last illness he has been engaged in active business in this city. During the whole period of his business life, since 1819, he has been identified with the forwarding and transportation interests of the Ohio Valley and the West, having been a prominent and energetic pioneer in all the successive improvements in those industries from the road wagon to the railroad. Throughout the entire existence of the Pennsylvania Canal as a through route, Mr. CLARKE was in the front ranks of those who conducted its business; and probably no one person was so influential in organizing the compact and successful lines of steamboats which operated on the Ohio river during the twenty years which preceded the introduction of railroads.

Energetic, efficient and successful as Mr. CLARKE was, he was quiet, retiring and unobtrusive. Courteous, gentle and kind, he won the good will of all who approached him, and closer intimacy resulted almost invariably in confidence, esteem and affection. He was successful in business, peaceful in his spirit and in his life, and happy in his domestic relations.

He was a benevolent and good man—more than usually free from faults;—but he was not one who substituted morality and good works for faith. His trust was in the atoning blood and the perfect righteousness of his Redeemer. He was long a member of the congregation of the Third Presbyterian Church of this city, and at a later period made a full confession of his faith. His end was peaceful; and he awaited its slow but inevitable approach with feelings of desire rather than of dread.

ALL OVER the country the press is amusing itself with Mrs. Lincoln's clothes. Poor Mrs. Lincoln; they are quite busy, some of them, tearing her character to pieces; probably she would have preferred that fate for her historical "clothes" if she could have foreseen the events of the last few weeks, the criticisms of the papers of the country, but most particularly that of a Southern journal, which asserts that Mrs. Lincoln is a lion, and warns the people at large not to arouse the dormant savage. We think it would perhaps have been a little more gallant to have said lioness, but probably the one is as gentle as the other.

EDITORIAL GLEANINGS.

A NEW YORK exchange in speaking of a select few of the candidates for office in that State says it knows of but one thing worse than the defeat of the Republican party would be with such candidates, and that thing is success. As the writer is republican, the compliment to the persons mentioned may at least be considered as a doubtful one.

AN EXCHANGE calls our new acquisition in the North "the cold shoulder." This of course will never do; after all the talk of extraordinary friendship between this country and Russia, and the naval fetes at St. Petersburg, to find that we have received the "cold shoulder" from the Czar.

A LINEAL descendant of the renowned "Bulls of Bashan" is advertised for sale in a sporting exchange. His sire was brought up in Damascus, but his mamma was an English Durham, who had, however, some of the grand old aristocratic blood of Bashan in her veins, too. The subject of the advertisment is said to be the only animal of Bashan stock now in this country.

WE have an inkling of the Fenian plans. They intend to keep England in a continual state of alarm and expenditure until the national debt is thereby increased to such an extent that something must be done. Ireland will have to be mortgaged or sold, and a change of masters will in this way be brought about. If they could rely on Mr. Seward living long enough, they might expect us to become possessed of the Green Isle, as we already are of its inhabitants. But it will probably take some little time to increase the British debt sufficiently to accomplish their designs, and Mr. Seward's health is not as good as it has been.

A MAN named Nadean, in Chatham, Ontario, has for some time past been pursuing a systematic course of insulting the ladies of that town. On Wednesday evening he grossly insulted two respectable girls, and was shortly afterward whipped by some of their male relatives. He then ran, pursued by a small crowd, and took refuge in a hardware store. There he stayed until the crowd outside had increased to some two hundred persons, when the store was forced open, and Nadean pitched from the window into the arms of the infuriated mob, who immediately proceeded to decorate him with a coat of tar trimmed with feathers, and then to treat him to a ride on a friendly rail. After all this pleasant little diversion was over they banished him from the place. He might have said "Banished from Chatham? What's banished but set free?"—from a place too hot to hold him.

A MILWAUKEE merchant, Mr. G., has for years, been in the habit of leaving his book-keeper as the protector of his wife and two children during his frequent absences on business. On the 15th he returned home and was coolly received by his wife and her protector, who asked for some private conversation, when Mrs. G. objected, declaring that whatever was to be said had better be said in her presence. The young man then made a confession, both for himself and Mrs. G. He said that it had long been apparent to them both that they were designated as companions for each other. Their tastes, their aspirations and their loves were the same. They loved each other tenderly, and wished to be united, and all they wanted of Mr. G. was that he would interpose no obstacle to their union. Mr. G. took some hours to consider, and went to consult his lawyer. When he returned the hopeful couple were gone, his children were deserted and his home desolate.

THE Albany Journal gives an account of a Mr. Siebold, who drifted out into Lake Superior, from Eagle River, in November, '64, was thought dead, and his estate administered upon. Recently his friends have received a letter dated from "Fort Abercrombie, near Montreal," signed in the name of the missing man, and saying that he was captured by Indians, held a prisoner at Great Wood Lake, escaped to the Saginaw Indians, was sick and will soon be home. The Journal says Abercrombie is in Minnesota, and the letter is thought to be genuine; but it is in Dacotah, and so remote from Montreal that one would wonder why a letter dated there should be posted at that point. There are no Saginaw Indians near that Fort, and the letter is probably a bald hoax. There is a semi-weekly mail from Fort Abercrombie, to St. Cloud, Minnesota, a garrison there, and a growing settlement of white men in the immediate vicinity. If such a prisoner had escaped to that Fort he would have ample means of communicating with any part of the world.

WILLIAM KANE left his wife and children in Ireland and came to America to seek a home for them. In Savannah, Ga., he married a lady of some wealth. He went to New York and married a woman there. His wife came from Ireland to hunt him. He met her, and went with her to St. Paul, Minnesota. She gave him $500 and he started East, to transact business; went to Chicago, rented a house, sent for his New York wife, and went to keeping boarders. His other wives came on and had him ousted. The wife wants her money and the other women want him. He is in jail awaiting trial.

QUITE a severe quarrel between Baptistin, the ballet master, and Betty Rigl, one of the premieres of the Black Crook in Philadelphia, has been amusing that town. Baptistin says that Betty can't dance, a verdict which the audience reverses every night. The other evening, while executing one of her most bewitching pirouettes, Baptistin's spite got the better of him, and he pinched her severely. She, poor thing, rushed from the stage and refused to dance any more that evening. The audience has sided with Betty, and Baptistin is quite unpopular.

THE Rajah of Mysore is troubling the Calcutta and India authorities by his extravagance. Only a few months since he spent 10,000 pounds in celebrating his birthday. Since then he has been invested with the star of India, and wishes a grant of 30,000 pounds to spend in celebrating his receipt of the new honor.

A CROSS-GRAINED contemporary gets off the following on Gen. Butler. We have no doubt the originator thought it an excellent thing: "Butler's butler having secreted some teaspoons from his master's cupboard at Lowell, (with various initials) the General reproved him sternly, 'when I took you for my butler, I did not think that you would take me for your New Orleans.'"

THE New York World, in speaking of an infant prodigy who is or was astounding the audiences of the New York Circus, says that he "gyrates like a Catharine wheel in silk tights." Catharine, in that garb, should certainly find an engagement at Niblo's.

A GENTLEMAN from Memphis lost, while in Louisville, a shirt stud containing a diamond worth some $4,800. A Nashville detective recovered the gem in Nashville. It was set in a finger ring and belonged to a Mr. Williams, of Cincinnati, who gave it up with reluctance as he had purchased it in Ohio in perfect good faith.

A BOAT on the Saginaw River with seven men in it was recently crushed between the pier of the Railroad Bridge and a passing barge. One of the men named Shay was instantly killed and all of the rest were more or less seriously injured.

AN Iowa lady found her son, whom she had not seen for eighteen years, one of the company of a travelling circus, the other day.

MANY of the tenement houses in New York are not fully occupied, the high rents having driven tenants out of the city.

THE New York Times thus discourses. The Times has evidently not read and believed "The Coming Wonders" or "The Battle of Armageddon:"

Holders of Government bonds, of long leases, and of contracts generally to be executed or ended in futuro, must not be worried by the gloomy forebodings of a writer in the North British. A change is about to take place in the earth. "What this change is to be we dare not even conjecture. * * * The fragments of broken planets, the descent of meteoric stones upon our globe, the wheeling comets, wielding their loose materials in our own satellite, the appearance of new stars and the disappearance of others, are as the solar furnace, the volcanic eruptions, foreshadows of that impending convulsion to which the system of the world is doomed." If this Dismal Jemmy would only kindly state about what time the said convulsion might be expected to take place, the information would be appreciated. Comets have wheeled and wielded, new stars have made debuts on the world's theatre, and celestial droppings of all sorts have occurred for so very many centuries, that the impending convulsion seems hardly so imminent as it might under other circumstances. Perhaps it will not take place before the days of our great grand-children, who, we have no doubt, will show themselves equal to the emergency.

THE PRAIRIES caught fire near Fort Ransom, D. T., on the 7th inst., and caused considerable loss, both of life and property. The following letter from the commandant of the post, Maj. Crounan, gives the particulars:

"To prevent the possibility of any sensation rumor reaching you, I give you these facts to publish if you think proper.

"The fire that raged through this country yesterday left us unharmed, in life and property, with the exception of six hundred tons of hay which was consumed. With considerable labor we saved the camp and post.

"Ten half-breeds, belonging to a camp in our immediate vicinity, were burned to death and some six or seven badly injured; Dr. McMasters thinks some of them will die. Everything else is all right, but the prairie is burned all around us. In case rumors reach you in regard to this calamity, please publish this to prevent our friends and families in the East becoming unnecessarily alarmed for our safety. The danger now has entirely passed, and everything goes on as usual.

PARISIAN STOCK BROKERS must be almost as sharp and prolific of sensation news as the New York gold men. We clip the following from a Paris letter:

"I am not surprised to hear, just before closing this letter, of the extraordinary panic which has taken place at the Bourse. Not that I credit one-half of the rumors which have been put in circulation, but because of the uneasy state of public feeling which I have sketched above as almost certain to be taken advantage of by speculators and newsmongers. Every sort of report was set afloat. The Emperor was dying, General Fleury had received an ultimatum at Berlin; Prussia had concluded an offensive and defensive alliance with Italy; the latter Power had demanded the nullification of the Convention of September. The sudden departure for Biarritz of M. Rouher, the Minister of State, with the Minister of the Interior, Marshal Neil, and other persons of importance, gave consistence to these alarms, and produced a tremendous fall of prices."

A STORY OF REMBRANDT.—A writer in the Cornhill, noticing the unprecedented price of $5,900 paid for an etching by Rembrandt, at a private sale in London, adds a story about one of Rembrandt's etchings. He had gone to spend a day with his great friend, Jan Six, a burgomaster of Amsterdam. As they were sitting down to dinner, it was found the servant had forgotten to provide any mustard. He was sent at once to the village close by; but Rembrandt, knowing that the favorite maxim of the Dutch servants was "much haste, little speed," laid a wager with the burgomaster that he would etch the view from the dining room window before the servant returned. He took up a plate, tried his etching point upon it, sketched the view, and won his bet. The engraving is a very rare one. Baron Verstolke's impression sold for £17 10s, but he would be fortunate who could secure a good impression at that price now.

CHOLERA! CHOLERA!

With the almost certain advent of Cholera, no thoughtful person will be unprepared for it. Secure what experience has demonstrated to be the most certain antidote—that which has cured once will cure again, and never purchase a new and untried article, when an OLD AND RELIABLE ARTICLE can be had. When the cholera visited us on two former occasions, it was found by experience that

FLEMING'S CHOLERA MIXTURE

Was the best, and superseded all others, therefore it stands to reason that, if you would have an article that you can depend on, you should purchase it to the exclusion of all others.

AN AUTUMN SUGGESTION.

Now, as foamy fogs arise and searching winds commence to blow; now, as the human body, exhausted like inanimate nature by the heats of summer, begins to wilt and droop; now, ere the inclement winter makes its trying onset; NOW is the time for a preparatory course of the best acclimating medicine in existence,

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Fever and Ague is rampant in all parts of the country. Quinine, the physicians admit, will not—until the close of the disease which it oppresses—pervade the entire Weak. It is well that it is so, for the remedy (so-called), is deadlier than the malady. But if quinine is ineffectual in the latter, every HOSTETTER'S BITTERS is irresistible. It would be safe to make a contract, under heavy penalties, that any given "Fever-and-Ague District" should be exempted from the disorder for any particular time, provided every Inhabitant would take the BITTERS according to directions, during the term of the contract. There has never been a single instance in which this stirling hygienant and anti-febrile medicine has failed to ward off the complaint, when taken in duly as a preventive against malaria. Hundreds of physicians have, a hundred and fifty of them in print, prescribed it as a harmless, vegetable tonic, and nothing else, as a preventive and cure for all forms of chills and fever. Vigor is the thing most needful in these cases, as it is in dyspepsia and kindred affections, and it GETTER'S BITTERS are the safest, surest and most wholesome stregthening preparation that human skill has yet concocted.

BLIND EYES RESTORED.

The case to which we alluded some weeks ago, of Christiana Fisher, of Beaver county, is now entirely confirmed by the appearance of Miss Fisher herself, who to-day called on DR. KEYSER in person, to thank him for his genius and skill in restoring her TO ENTIRE AND PERFECT SIGHT. Miss Fisher had been nearly blind for four months. She was so blind that she could not distinguish any object so as to make out what it was. The case is remarkable, as hundreds of cases like hers are doomed to never-ending darkness, on the flimsy pretext that there is no cure, and nothing can be done. She was under DOCTOR KEYSER'S treatment for two months, and before she applied to him through her brother, Simon P. Fisher, slight hopes were entertained of her ever getting her sight. Her case is well known in the neighborhood where she resides, and has been regarded as one of extraordinary recovery.

We, the undersigned, know of the cure of Miss Fisher, and bear willing testimony to the facts above stated.

THE COURTS.

Common Pleas—Full Bench.

SATURDAY, October 18.—A variety of business was transacted:

Wm. Magill vs. Lavina Magill. Proceeding in divorce. Application for jury trial, by respondent. An affidavit of respondent sets forth that she was compelled to answer before she was ready by reason of the extraordinary haste of the libellant in appointing a commission to take testimony; that since she filed her answer she is fully satisfied that an issue to a jury is necessary to try the case properly, and, with leave of Court, demanded such trial. The Court refused the issue for the reason that it was not claimed when the answer was filed, as required by 80th rule of Court.

George Burns vs. Rev. Wm. Hunter. Action for slander. Motion for arrest of judgment. Reasons: 1st, the verdict is general upon all the counts in the declaration, and the second count is defective, in that it sets forth no actionable words, 2d, one of the counts in the plaintiff's declaration contains no actionable words and the verdict is general.

82. (January.) Caldwell vs. McLaughlin and wife.

82. (April.) Arnold vs. Boyweller & Co.

28. (May.) Lamb vs. Ballou.

37. (May.) Thompson vs. Rice.

Quarter Sessions—Full Bench

The following persons were sentenced on Saturday:

Levi Upton, convicted of the larceny of shoes from the establishment of Palmer, Anshutz & Co., where he was employed as foreman, was sentenced to the Penitentiary for one year.

The three boys, John Kelly, Michael Dunn and Charles Ingram, convicted of stealing from the clothing store of James Clothier, corner of Fifth and Liberty streets, were committed to the House of Refuge.

James alias Reynolds Johnston, colored, convicted of unlawfully cutting George Washington, also colored, was sentenced to the Penitentiary for eighteen months.

John Burke, convicted of assault and battery on John Mishler, in East Birmingham, was sentenced to pay a fine of fifty dollars and to ten days imprisonment in the jail.

Sentence was deferred in the case of Charles Douglass, convicted of highway robbery, on oath of Patrick Bannon, in order to allow desired testimony to present some palliating circumstances connected with the transaction. He, however, maintains his entire innocence.

In the case of Martha Gray, the young woman convicted of committing a larceny at the house of Mr. George C. Miller, in McKeesport, sentence was also deferred. It is believed that she is of unsound mind, and that the conviction for this reason was improper.

United States Circuit Court—Judge McCandless.

SATURDAY, Oct. 19.—The arguments on the application of James Wood for a preliminary injunction to restrain the New Castle Manufacturing Company from infringing upon a patent held by him, were concluded.

An argument was heard on the application of the same plaintiff for a preliminary injunction to restrain Messrs. Oliphant and Paul from infringing upon the same patent. This last case was similar to the others previously argued, with the exception that it was alleged in 1863 a decree was obtained against the sons of J. D. Oliphant from infringing upon the patent in question, and that after the decree had been issued the sons turned their property over into the hands of their father and J. W. Paul, defendants. The Court has not yet rendered decisions in the cases.

District Court—Full Bench.

SATURDAY, Oct. 19.—A number of motions, &c., of no general importance were disposed of.

Following is the trial list for this day:

11. James Rees vs. James Morrow.
18. Jno. Griffin vs. John McClaren.
20. A. D. Miller vs. Jas. Simpson.
25. Kennedy & Bro. vs. German Gross Co.
27. John Thompson vs. Wm. Murdock, et. al.
29. Cyrus Miller vs. Fuller & Eastman.

Passenger Railway Trouble.

The authorities of the borough of Birmingham and the Citizens Passenger Railway Company have been at loggerheads for some time past, and on Saturday the matters of difference were the subject of argument in the Court of Common Pleas, on a motion to restrain the borough authorities from interfering with the Railway Company in constructing switches on Carson street deemed necessary for the business of the company. The question of putting down a double track on Carson street, through Birmingham, after being the subject of much discussion, was submitted during the past summer, to a vote of the citizens, a majority voting against. Recently the Railway Company determined to put down additional switches or turnouts, claiming such right under the borough ordinance allowing the right of way, but the authorities objected, contending that the switches about to be constructed, were of such length as to be almost paramount to a double track, and that they would interfere very materially with the business of the borough, in the obstruction of Carson street which is the main thoroughfare, and but thirty feet in width from curb to curb. The railway company based their right on the provisions of the ordinance allowing the right of way. The borough authorities applied to the Court for an injunction to restrain the company from putting down the switches, which was refused. The next move of the authorities was to arrest the workmen engaged in constructing the switches for trespass, and this action was made the basis, by the railway company, of the application for an injunction against the authorities, in urging which it was averred that the arrests for trespass were in effect a nullification of the action of the Court in refusing an injunction against the railway company. The company was represented by Messrs. Acheson and Carnahan, and the borough by its Solicitor, Alfred Kerr, Esq. The Court, after argument, granted the injunction against the authorities, and so the matter rests with the advantage on the side of the railway company. We understand, however, that it will be amicably adjusted.

Police Items.

It is a gratifying fact to announce that police business is dull, and that few items can be procured at either or any of the Aldermen's offices. We believe that vast family of litigants whose names are so familiar to most of our readers are either in jail or have learned some wisdom out of the costs and expenses of court proceedings. It has long been a noticeable fact, that the great majority of persons figuring frequently in the trifling cases entertained by some of our magistrates, belonged to the poorer classes, those who could barely afford either to be jailed or cast into a bill of costs. Newspaper talk and counsel to them did not effect much, as they would not read or be advised, but we sincerely trust they have learned from experience that law is not the greatest luxury within their reach. "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you" is a golden rule, and should be more faithfully observed.

JUSTICE LIPP.—This worthy Justice had before him on Saturday Joseph Beren, Reuben Brown and John Fickey, who were charged on oath of Henry Helfner with the grievous offense of felonious assault and battery. Last Saturday night a week, the prosecutor was walking towards his home on the Brownsville road, when he was suddenly confronted by three men, who violently seized hold of him and inflicted serious bodily injuries. The three attacking party used knuckles while another flourished a dirk. The prosecutor would undoubtedly have lost his life had not timely assistance arrived to drive away the ruffians. The accused were arrested on the charge of committing the gross assault, and were held for a further examination.

JUSTICE AMMON.—Before this magistrate on Saturday there came Calvert Russell, who on his oath charged John Betner, Joseph Wesler and Richard Smith with malicious mischief. It was alleged that the accused had made a raid on the garden of the prosecutor, had torn down his fence and committed other things of a malicious character. Evidently the party arrested had indulged in their sport because it was sport, and did not realize that they were committing a criminal offence. The case was adjusted satisfactorily to all parties concerned.

ALDERMAN MCMASTERS.—Officer T. O'Connor, of Alderman McMasters' police, had, on Saturday, placed in his hands a warrant for the arrest of a woman who was believed to have been stopping at the Optic Saloon, on Fifth street. He proceeded to the tavern to make the arrest, but was stopped, as is alleged, by the bar tender, J. Roney, and a man named J. McAbee, and prevented from securing the woman, as she subsequently escaped, taking her departure for Philadelphia. Officer O'Connor preferred a charge against the unlawful impediments to justice, and they were each held in the sum of $300 to answer the charge at Court.

The Fifth street sewer approaches completion. The work is pronounced first class by those who are posted in such matters.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

State Christian Convention.

This Convention of the Christians of all Evangelical denominations in Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and Western Virginia, is to assemble to-morrow (Tuesday) evening, at half past seven o'clock, in the First Presbyterian Church, on Wood street, near Sixth, for organization and prayer. During Wednesday, Wednesday evening and Thursday, very important questions, relating to individual and co-operative Christian effort, will be discussed. On Thursday evening the anniversary exercises of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held. On Wednesday and Thursday the noon day prayer meeting will be temporarily removed for convenience to the place of the sessions of the Convention.

Messrs. George H. Stuart, of Philadelphia, D. L. Moody, of Chicago, H. Thane Miller, of Cincinnati, and A. K. Burnell, of Milwaukee, have promised to be present and will participate in the proceedings. The public is most cordially invited to be present through all the sessions and the exercises.

The Convention will undoubtedly be a very large one, but we regret to announce that the number of accommodations reported is not two-thirds of the number of delegates who have already advised of their coming, besides the much larger number who will attend without previous announcement to the Committee. An earnest appeal is therefore made to the Christian public that those who can offer the hospitalities of their homes send their names, residences, &c., at once to the Church Committees of the Young Men's Christian Association in the respective churches, or to A. B. Riggs, Secretary, at the Association Rooms, 23 Fifth street. Those who prefer it may entertain delegates at the hotels under special arrangements made by the Association. As entertainment is only asked for three days, we earnestly hope that this appeal for so catholic and deserving an object will not come in vain to the well known and warm hearted hospitality of Pittsburgh. The Church Committees hold their final meeting for report on accommodations, at the Association Rooms, this afternoon at four o'clock. On the 25th and 26th inst., the Allegheny County Sabbath School Teachers' Institute also hold their Annual Convention in Christ Methodist Episcopal Church, on Penn street.

Oil Refinery Stezed.

To learn the news we must go away from home. The following telegram from Pittsburgh appeared in the principal newspapers of the country on Saturday last:

"The United States authorities have seized the Quaker Oil Refinery. The United States detective having charge of the matter has made successfully worked up the facts against the claimants. The evidence shows more sales, by the one firm, of free oil, twice over, than tax paid to Government. The tax being twenty cents per gallon, it is as profitable as illicit whisky distilling. The amount claimed is very large, and a full expose will be made."

The telegraph last night denied the truth of this item, and we presume the agent of the Associated Press here will be called upon to explain how the rumor was started.

Dastardly Acts.

Some unfeeling scoundrel threw a boulder at the procession on Saturday night as it was passing along Federal street, Allegheny, which, missing the mark, struck a young lady in the eye, perhaps destroying her sight forever. A stone thrown on Fifth street inflicted a serious scalp wound on a little boy named Graham. We are glad to say these were the only instances of stones throwing at the procession which we have heard of, and we believe, in both instances, the perpetrators were boys. No man, with a man's heart in his bosom, could be guilty of such conduct, no matter how much they may be tempted to do so.

Amusements.

NEW OPERA HOUSE.—To-night Mr. F. S. Chanfrau and Mr. C. T. Parsloe in the "Ticket-of-Leave Man.

TRIMBLE'S VARIETIES THEATRE.—Fine stock company and first night of the beautiful and talented lady athlete, Miss Fannie Forest.

CIRCUS.—Dan. Rice is coming shortly on his farewell visit. He has an immense circus.

A mild-mannered youth was brought into the tombs on Saturday night on the charge of disorderly conduct. He had in his possession a new leather covered "handy-billy" which he stated he had just purchased in order to protect himself. Generally the bearers of such weapons prove the aggressive parties. By the way, is there no law against the selling of such articles to roughs? We think some old statute forbids the sale, under penalty, of "billies," "sand knuckles, and we would like to see it put into effect occasionally.

Burgess Copeland, of Johnstown, in the city in connection with the case of the alleged counterfeit "shovers," Wright and Watson, was seriously injured at the Union Depot on Friday. He was running to get on a moving train, when the covering of one of the coal depots beneath the track gave way, precipitating him to the bottom, fracturing several of his ribs and otherwise injuring him. He was taken to the St. Lawrence Hotel, where he received proper surgical attention.

A Vast Estate.—At Reading, Pa., a meeting of the good old Pennsylvania Dutch heirs of the Zintzmenel and Roth ermel estate in Holland will be held next month. It is believed that several hundred persons will be present at the meeting. This estate is of immense value, and is estimated to be worth from $35,000,000 to $45,000,000. The location of the property, consists of large tracts of land, bonds, bank stocks, railroad securities, &c.

The following conversation took place in front of our office on Saturday between several legal gentlemen: 1st lawyer to his friend—"The Pennsylvania Railroad lost the State to us." 2d lawyer—"No, stupid one, it was the Philadelphia pride which elected Sharswood." 3d lawyer to 1st—"He calls you a stupid ass; do you allow such remarks?" 1st lawyer—"Y-e-s, we know each other so well."

The Cincinnati Express train, on Saturday last, while passing the crossing at East Liberty, ran into a butcher wagon, shattering it to pieces and mangling two spirited horses in a terrible manner. To end their sufferings both were killed by a humane bystander. The driver fortunately made a safe escape.

Our city proper now contains an aggregate population of over one hundred thousand souls. We can put on a few more airs—fresh ones, than formerly, and for the outer words of the city make protection to cleanliness and exemption from soot and smoke.

The Ex-ks-up was uncomfortably filled on Saturday night, the guests being principally the ardent individuals who let beer get the better of their patriotism on the occasion of the procession.

Hit Him on the Head.—William Hanber, for indulging in the pleasure of rapping a citizen over the head with a torch handle, was fined two dollars by Mayor Morrison yesterday.

A Pittsburgher named Henry Blackstone, an inmate of the Soldiers' Home, in Philadelphia has been arrested and held to answer for stealing clothing from the institution.

The new lamp on the corner of Fifth and Smithfield streets is very good in its way, but is not a very decided improvement on the old one in vogue.

Jury trials in the Criminal Court will continue for at least two weeks yet, over one hundred cases on the calendar having to be disposed of.

Information was made against a number of boys yesterday for corner loafing in Allegheny. They will be arrested to-day.

On account of the Democratic parade, work was suspended in the Fifth street tunnel on Saturday night.

See Advertisements of Merchants Union Express Co., on second page of to-day's paper.

They call Brown an aquatic fowl in the East. Hamill is a row-boat in the West.

—James Ferguson, of Buffalo, is a worker in metals, who has wrought in copper only for five months, and his hair which was lately white, is now of so decided a green that the poor man cannot appear in the street without immediately becoming the object of general curiosity. He is perfectly well, his hair alone is affected by the copper, notwithstanding the precaution he takes to protect it from the action of the metal. Chemical analysis has proved that his hair contains a notable quantity of acetate of copper, and that to is this circumstance that it owes its beautiful green color, which is most singular and remarkable.

—Near Allsboro, Alabama, Miss Nannie Cobb was fatally wounded by the discharge of a pistol, the ball entering near her right eye, passing through her brain and out on the opposite side. Yet, with that dreadful wound, she lived five days, though during that time she never spoke. The pistol was in the scabbard and under the bed on a quilt next to the cord, but none of the family knew it was there. The unfortunate young woman, and two of her companions, were pulling the quilt from under the bed, and while they were doing so, by some means, the pistol struck against the bed railing and went off.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, October 19, 1867.

Gold opened at 144½, and fluctuated between 144 and 144¾. Market firm; every effort to depress the market to any extent was unsuccessful, and barely enough margin is left for dealers to make a turn. Government bonds remain nearly unchanged, except Five Twenties of 1862, which advanced about ⅛ per cent. on the strength of the advance in London. The offerings at the counter of the various banking houses are rather increasing, while but few are investing, even at the low figures. There is evidently a desire to await the meeting of next Congress before any large investments in bonds are made.

The stock market is decidedly lower on account of the high rate for call loans and the impossibility of obtaining large sums for any specified time. North Western, common, and preferred is almost the only stock that keeps steady and firm.

Mining shares are dull and lower, and dealings are light. Some of the petroleum stocks are coming into notice again, and the names of United States, Pithole Creek, Buchanan-Bennehoff and Rynd Farm sound like to old acquaintances, whose recollection brings rather unpleasant thoughts to our mind.

Closing New York quotations received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

—There is nothing new in regard the spurious Seven Thirties. The vexed question as to responsibility is still discussed, and what will be the opinion of the legal officers of the Government is not known. On one site it is urged that, the notes being undoubted forgeries, and consequently without value, those dealers who have sold them to the Government are bound to refund the money, and should fall back on the correspondents from whom they purchased the notes. These dealers claim that the case involves two questions, one of expediency, and one of law. As to the first it is argued that the public securities will suffer in price very severely if the risks of the dealers and holders which are now so heavy are augmented as they would be by an adverse decision. On the point of law augmented is that the Treasury is in the position of a bank that has paid a forged check or note upon itself in which case it can have no claim upon the innocent person from whom the spurious instrument was received.

—The Philadelphia Ledger, of Friday, says: We regret to announce the failure yesterday of Wenzell & Fitzpatrick, stock brokers, on Market street. There were reports unfavorably affecting the credit of other houses, but from all that we could learn, they were entirely without foundation. We cannot too strongly reprobate the practice, common on the street, and with the people, of taking and transmitting falsely giving currency to reports of this character without a positive knowledge of their truth. A mercantile credit is his life, and should never be trifled with.

Mr. S. M. Clark, the head of the Printing Bureau, informs the New York Journal of Commerce that the original plates of the 7-30s recently counterfeited, are in custody under the seal of commissioners. The dies from which they were made are enclosed under three locks requiring the consent of three persons to their examination. The Journal adds:

"It cannot be that the rogues who put these counterfeits in circulation after they were executed will be allowed to escape. Of course they have been traced. The plates were sold by persons travelling, ostensibly to provide funds for current expenses. This was done to some extent in New England, but chiefly at the West. The bulk of those already rejected and traced back were used by strangers at various banks and bankers in certain localities, as collateral for temporary loans. So far as we know, not a single rejected note has been left upon the hands of a holder who received it from an honest source. The dealers, bankers and brokers of this city who have received counterfeits back from Washington, have found their correspondents from whom the notes came to them, ready and willing to make them good. The loss will fall upon a few persons altogether, from those persons who received them directly from the "shovers of the queer." How long it will be before the guilty will be traced, and the plate itself recovered. There have been no new amounts discovered, and thus far it would appear that all of the issue has been seized.

"We have been shown two dissimilar notes of another series of 7 30s, but in both appearance to be exact. We are not able to explain the discrepancy. There are both 30's; both have the letter 'G' on each end; both are dated June 15, 1865; one numbered 109,811 has the words 'promise to pay' on the face of the other, numbered 148,261, the words 'on' is omitted. We suppose that the explanation is simple; perhaps the omission was only discovered after 150,000 had been printed, and the word 'on' then added. The difference is such a little to the previous excitement, and Mr. Clark may see fit to furnish us with the interpretation."

—The St. Louis Democrat, of Thursday, has the following: The vote on 'Change yesterday, 167 for only 34 against the adoption of the cash system, continues important and greatly accelerated reform in the dealings in produce. That there have been heavy failures caused by the time system is of course true, but how many of them know by paid experience how severely these failures have borne upon the business men of the city. We trust that with the new system may come improved facilities for handling produce, so that this city may be enabled to do a larger share of the business of the Mississippi Valley.

—The Philadelphia Enquirer, of Tuesday, says: A large dry goods firm of this city failed to-day with liabilities amounting to $600,000. Of the liabilities $500,000 is borrowed money. There was no meeting of creditors up to a late hour this evening. It is rumored that a settlement will be effected by the firm paying fifty cents on the dollar and proceeding with their business.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, October 19, 1867.

The produce markets continue a little dull, and Grain and Flour, in consequence of the depressing character of the advices from the west, are tending downward. Provisions quiet and unchanged, and the same remarks will apply to Groceries, and many other articles of less importance.

GRAIN—Wheat is in good demand and very limited supply; prime Penna. and Ohio Red may be quoted at $2,56@2,60. Barley is dull, and too unsettled to quote correctly; prime Spring would probably bring $1,28@1,30, in first hands. Oats quiet and unchanged—may be quoted at 68c on track, and 70c in store. Corn is dull but unchanged; sales at $1,25@1 28 for mixed and prime Yellow. Rye is being sold at $1,56—the market is reported a little dull.

FLOUR—The Flour market is dull and irregular, with a declining tendency. We continue to quote at $11,00@11,25 for Spring Wheat; $12,50@13 for Winter Wheat; and $14@14,50 for fancy brands. Rye Flour quoted at $8,50 to $9.

PROVISIONS — Bacon is quiet and unchanged at 14½@15½c for Shoulders; 17@18c for Ribbed and Clear Sides; 20c for Plain Sugar Cured Hams, and 24@24½c for Canvassed do. Lard may be quoted at 14½@15c, and Mess Pork at $24,50@25.

BUTTER—Is in better supply and rather dull, with a drooping tendency; we now quote at 30@32c for fresh packed, and 35@36c for prime Rolls.

EGGS—Steady, with a demand fully up to the supply, and fresh packed may be quoted firm at 25c.

CHEESE—Is firm but unchanged; regular sales of Western Reserve and Hamburg at 14@15c, and Goshen at 17@18c.

APPLES—Continue to arrive very freely, and with a supply considerably in excess of the demand, prices are weak and drooping; we now quote at $2@3,50 per barrel, for best to prime.

POTATOES—Sweets are a little dull, and we now quote good to prime Jerseys at $1,00@ $3 per bbl.

OIL—Lard Oil is firm, with a fair demand, and regular sales by manufacturers at 95c for No. 2, and $1,18 for No. 1.

SALT—Is dull and nominally unchanged at $2,25 per barrel, on track, and $2,35, delivered.

HAY—Is quiet and unchanged; regular sales from country wagons at $16@20 per ton, according to quality.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, October 19, 1867.

CRUDE—The market was again dull and neglected to-day, not a single sale reported. Spot oil was offered at 13½c without finding buyers, and all 1867, sellers' option, was offered at 13½c, as was also first week, at same figure without finding takers. Indeed, the market has been dull for two or three days past, and while the supply is light, even at the decline, there is but a limited demand. Telegrams from Oil City quote the market dull at $3,70@3,75—a decline of 25c per barrel.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil was a shade better to-day, and notwithstanding the advices from Antwerp continue unfavorable, there were reported offers for October and November at an advance of one half cent per gallon. The former was quoted at 31½c, and the latter at 32c, and it is probable that the two months together would have brought 64½c or even 65c. It was thought by some, however, that the improvement above noted was not legitimate, and that it was brought about for the purpose of advancing the bull interest, which has been suffering for some days past under the influence of the adverse advices from Europe. The shipments past continue large, and it is hardly probable that the effort to establish a "corner" in November will succeed.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals of oil during the week ending to-day, were as follows—mostly by rail, and mostly from Smith's Ferry:

J. H. Shaw	478	W. McCutcheon	370
Brewer & Burke	302	H. Reynolds	110

NEW YORK, October 19.—The dry goods market is generally quiet and somewhat depressed for cotton, if not for woolen fabrics; yet there is no important change except in Allen's prints, which are selling at 15½c.
